Amytal takes the edge off daytime anxiety and tension

Amytal is a moderately long-acting barbiturate that takes the edge off daytime anxiety and tension without significant change in mood and attitude. Since Amytal is metabolized in the liver within twenty-eight hours, overlapping of effect is minimized, and renal damage does not constitute an absolute contraindication.

Side-Effects: Idiosyncrasy or allergic reactions to the barbiturates may occur.

Precautions and Contraindications:

Amytal should be used with caution in patients with decreased liver function, since a prolongation of effect may occur.

Administration in the presence of uncontrolled pain may produce excitement.

WARNING—May be habit-forming.

Dosage: Doses should be individualized for each patient. The usual adult sedative dosage ranges from 30 mg. (1/2 grain) to 50 mg. (3/4 grain) two or three times daily.

"A TEA BAG"

Recently my wife introduced me to a new and different brand of tea. More precisely, they were tea bags. I drank this new delight—what else could I do! There was no appreciable taste difference. Further, I must be an expert "tea taster" since I have drunk nothing but tea as a mealtime beverage my entire life.

My Irish mother introduced me to tea a long time ago. I could not have been more than four at the time. She made it differently with "a bit o' ceremony." Then a cup of tea was always an excuse for a family get-together and good conversation, or just listening, especially when you were only four years old. Important too, a cup of tea, I was told, was good for just about anything that ailed one, but tastewise pretty much the same then as now.

So, what was so different? Really nothing in the actual tea itself, but attached to the tissue tea container was a tiny tag with a clearly imprinted quotation. These bits of sage advice change from tea bag to tea bag and, of course, day to day. On this particular morning I read the following words: "To fail to try is the only failure that is fatal." Voila! Voila! For days I had struggled with one pressing problem after another and wondered, "Is it really worth this constant grinding effort—to try." It is! The tea bag says so.

Oh, it would be easy to hide behind the practice of medicine. It is a demanding, time consuming profession and constantly taxes one's physical and mental capacities. But there are other critical areas of endeavor where the doctor is needed and he must also fulfill that exigency.

For several years past, and critically now, the political arena bids the doctor to enter and fight, if he will, to preserve the long term quality of medical care. He must somehow tell the Congress and the people of the United States that precious medical freedom is in dire jeopardy, and if this loss occurs, the recipients of medical care—we the people—not the doctors will suffer. English medical care wracked and bleeding after almost twenty years is a startling example.

Yet, to continue this fight against bad legislation and the professionally trained politician is irksome, painful, tiring and at times too much for the average practitioner of medicine. It must have been too much too at Valley Forge. Today is Washington's birthday. Yet, those who gave us our precious freedom and died to do so, hoped eternally that we would keep and treasure it.

So, I implore every doctor in our Society, his wife and children, to make a significant contribution in this crisis. Letters by the hundred must go to Washington—your own and your friends. Petitions by mail and in person must be made. Everyone must help. "George" cannot do this job alone. We as doctors see over two million patients a day. Our patients will help us too. Just ask them, please. We can win. Remember, if we lose, "it will be our failure to try that was fatal."

— EDITORIAL —

This editorial may be very disappointing. You may turn to something else when you realize that this is yet another article about medical care for the aged. But recent developments, notably the introduction of Eldercare and the imminent congressional actions in this field, have made the discussion of other material on this page, at this time an unconscionable travesty.

Eldercare provides many advantages and improvements over Medicare. From a careful analysis of these details, a single thought emerges above all else: it promises to fulfill much more adequately the medical needs of our aged. Nothing else would really matter if Eldercare failed to do this. Therefore, when we fight for this legislation, we will fight not only for philosophic principles and financial and administrative details, but most specifically for the welfare of our older population.

The details of the Eldercare Bill should be known and understood by all of us. When we argue for its adoption, our enthusiasm must of necessity be supported by facts. We must know that Eldercare provides health insurance assistance rather than payment for medical care; that it provides far broader medical and hospital coverage and preserves the patients' free choice of physicians and hospitals; and that it is less costly, and does not threaten the financial soundness of the Social Security System.

But all this is icing on the cake. Eldercare promises to meet the needs of the elderly, and it therefore merits the support of all those who are genuinely concerned with this problem. "It is never too late to pass good legislation," and Eldercare certainly qualifies.

BOARDMAN NEWS EDITORIAL

Appearances to the contrary, not all of the nation's newspapers are taking a closed-mind view of the physicians' fight to establish a good medical care program for the elderly. The AMA News has, from time to time, printed editorial comment from a number of newspapers favoring the Eldercare approach. Locally, the Boardman News has printed some thoughtful comment on the Eldercare-Medicare issue. Here is an excerpt from the Feb. 11 issue:

More often, a liberal believes he's a liberal because he reads certain periodicals and believes that the American Medical Assn. (AMA) is "reactionary."

The AMA is a favorite target, I suspect, because it is highly effective. Yet, the only reason I have found to date that liberals believe the AMA is reactionary is because AMA believes there is a better way to help the elderly than "medicare" financed through social security. The AMA proposes that such treatment would be better if it were handled through a government financed insurance program. State health departments would administer the "eldercare" program proposed by the AMA.

"What do you really know about the AMA?" I ask my "liberal" friends. There isn't one I've met so far who has told me about the 14 bills that AMA supported last year, bills which, for instance, exempted non-profit blood banks from anti-trust law and extended Federal aid for building new hospitals . . . Not one has told me about the $2.3 million AMA spent last year to guarantee bank loans to medical students; none spoke up to tell me that AMA established the great standards for this country's medical schools, a magnificent 60-year fight won only after great difficulty. None had even heard about the new Institute for Biomedical Research the AMA is presently building. None knew that AMA is the new watchdog of our nursing homes and has accredited 500 of this country's 9,000 such institutions.

No one man rules the American Medical Assn. Chance are 9-1 your doctor belongs. Our county and state medical associations belong and have a voice equal to that of other such associations. Medicare sounds good to a lot of people. But "eldercare" sounds more sensible, less costly, less wasteful and it sounds like the kind of program I would want. I don't often write my congressman, but I intend to ask him if he please won't listen to those old "reactionaries" on at least one question—health—because that will be my doctor talking about my health.

ELDERCARE PARTIES

The entire Mahoning County Medical Society is grateful to the Woman's Auxiliary for the series of three parties, held on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Feb. 24-26 at the offices of Drs. Murray and Dietz. At the request of the Operation Hometown Committee, Mrs. Tandatnick, Auxiliary president, and her Board made all the party arrangements on short notice. Despite inclement weather, a large number of members and their wives attended. Dr. Jack Schreiber spoke on the Eldercare Act of 1965, introduced into congress by Herlong and Curtis. Entertainment was provided by the Eldercare Trio, three young ladies from Mooney High School, who sang several show tunes and two Eldercare numbers, words by Dr. McDonough. The singers were: Kathy Sofranec, Donna Marie Geise, and Diane Babnick.

From the Bulletin

THIRTY YEARS AGO—MARCH 1935

Cases of influenza were on the increase, reaching epidemic proportions. There was sudden onset with chills and fever, muscular aching and prostration.

Scarlet fever showed a marked increase, 179 cases were reported in the county, 115 of them in Youngstown.

Dr. Herman Kling reminded the doctors to report their cases to the Health Department so that the gravity and extent of epidemics could properly be evaluated and handled.

R. M. Morrison was back to work after a week of influenza. He always came down with it after visiting the first case. Karl Allison was ill in the North Side Unit. He was our first proctologist. H. E. Blott was home from the hospital. John R. Buchanan opened his office for the practice of orthopedics. Sol Hartzell was out of the hospital and taking a cruise to Bermuda. Joe Rosenfeld was recuperating in Florida. All these doctors are gone now and just names to be remembered. But in their day they were important figures who had a strong influence on the health of the community.

This writer can remember going over to South High School with "Pop" Morrison during the great influenza epidemic of 1918. Both our regular hospitals were swamped and South High was converted to an emergency hospital for influenza cases manned by Red Cross volunteers. We made rounds where there were rooms full of people on army cots, most of them dying. They were blue, coughing, wheezing and struggling for breath. This young interne went back to the hospital scared to death.

Our hospital superintendent Fred Bunn followed the usual pattern: sick on Monday, worse on Tuesday, pneumonia on Wednesday and dead on Thursday. We did everything we knew for him. He was the second person in Youngstown to receive an intravenous injection of 10% glucose. It was made up in the pharmacy and autoclaved in the surgery. It was a light brown color from caramelization. There were no commercial I.V. solutions those days. The first case to receive I.V. glucose was a Gypsy woman with pneumonia. She recovered. It was considered a specific for pneumonia but in Mr. Bunn's case it didn't work. That was in 1918, not 1935.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—MARCH 1945

Major John Goldcamp was heard from somewhere in the Philippines where he was living in a tent except when he was in a foxhole. J. L. Scarnecchia was retired to inactive duty after two years with the Army Air Corps.

Asher Randall and Joseph Kupec were home on leave. John Renner was transferred to Recife, Brazil. There were postcards in the staff rooms addressed to all the members who were away at war. Anyone who cared to could sign his name or write a short message and when the card was filled it would be mailed to the member addressed. It was a nice gesture.

TEN YEARS AGO—MARCH 1955

President Howard Jones of Youngstown College (now the University) said that the Medical Society has many ties with the College. The same is true today and the Society is very proud of the progress the University is making under Howard's capable direction.

President Ivan Smith was worried about another World War. The world situation was tense. Congress extended the doctor draft act another two years.

Harry Smith opened his office at 1926 Market St. for the practice of proctology. John Guju opened an office at 249 Lincoln Ave. for the practice of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Scott's were offering Excello shirts at $10.00 each. Scott's disappeared from the scene and were succeeded by Powers and Flaughner who are going out of business this month. The Squire Shop is giving up, too. Victims of the downtown deterioration.

MEDICAL ASSISTANTS' SOCIETY OF MAHONING COUNTY

The February meeting for members of the Medical Assistants' Society of Mahoning County was held on the 2nd at St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing "Ivy Hall" at 8:00 p.m. President Dorothy Klein presided.

Our Guest Speaker was Dr. Elias Saadi, Director of the Cardio-Pulmonary Laboratory at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Dr. Saadi gave an interesting talk on "Diagnostic Cardiology", and also was an excellent guide while showing us through his department explaining the many complicated looking pieces of equipment used during a cardiac catheterization procedure. I, for one, enjoyed every minute of it, and, judging from the intent expressions on the girls' faces, I am sure they enjoyed it, also. Our grateful thanks to you, Dr. Saadi, for giving us a most informative evening.

Upon leaving the Cardio-Pulmonary Laboratory, we went to the auditorium at the hospital for refreshments, which was followed by a talk given by Mrs. Louise Miller, R.N., who is associated with The Heart Association of Eastern Ohio, Inc. Mrs. Miller spoke in reference to the Heart Association's Stroke Rehabilitation Program. This is a free service to our community, and it should be remembered that the stroke patients who can be rehabilitated do have that opportunity.

It was announced at our meeting that on February 18th we would hold a "Guest Day Tea" at St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing "Ivy Hall" at 8:00 p.m. Invitations will be sent to prospective members and a delightful program of entertainment is being planned.

The "Birthday Girl" for the month of February was Mary Louise Yuhas and she was presented with her "Angel of The Month."

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 2nd at Youngstown Hospital Assoc., "South Side Nurses Home" at 8:00 p.m. The Ohio State Highway patrol will show a film, "Wheels of Tragedy."

Mysteclin-F is good practice whenever the advantages of tetracycline are being weighed against the rising incidence of monilial complications. Its two components act independently of each other and in different sectors of the pathogenic spectrum: the tetracycline as systemic therapy in a wide range of bacterial, spirochetal, rickettsial and even some viral and protozoan infections...Fungizone as topical prophylaxis to prevent the intestinal overgrowth of C. albicans. WIFE LINE

Many thanks to the many kind readers who have inquired about the "missing" Wife Line articles in the last two Bulletins. Next month's issue will include a summary of these busy Auxiliary activities, which have kept me rather involved.

We were very happy indeed, when the Auxiliary was asked to help in our Medical Society's Operation Hometown, which is the AMA's program to inform the local physicians and through them, the public—of medical legislation now under Congressional consideration. We fulfilled very successfully the objectives of the Auxiliary which are listed and outlined in our Auxiliary pledge, and never have they been more applicable: "to cooperate with the Mahoning County Medical Society in the protection of public health, and in promoting health education; to assist in the entertainment and fulfill such functions as may be needed at any meeting of the Mahoning County Medical Society; to promote good fellowship among physicians' families."

When the Auxiliary was asked to help, an emergency board meeting was called, after which approval was given to proceed and the board members went to work. In only 5 days, over 400 telephone calls were made to invite Mahoning County physicians and their wives (many of whom are Auxiliary members) and also house staff physicians and their wives, to attend a party on any one of three successive nights (Feb. 24-26) at the magnificent Medical Arts Bldg.—through the kindness of Dr. Richard Murray—for the purpose of discussing the Eldercare Bill which will be voted upon shortly in Congress. Despite the snow blizzard and announced hazardous road conditions on the second night, we did have a total of 150 persons in attendance, although this number represented half of the names listed for reservations.

A hit of the evening were songs presented by a girls' trio, all seniors at Cardinal Mooney High School and accompanied at the piano by Mr. John Petrone, musical director of the high school. One of the girls, Kathy Sofranec, is the daughter of Dr. Joe Sofranec. She was joined by Diane Babanich, and Donna Geise. They were very delightful and included in their presentation, were two parodies of "Ain't She Sweet" and "The Rain in Spain." Dr. John McDonough, president of the Medical Society, wrote the catchy lyrics—all concerning Eldercare. These were very warmly received, and by now, you have probably heard them on recordings, or on radio, for they are the official Mahoning County Medical Society's songs about Eldercare! The recordings have also been sent to the AMA in Chicago for their use as well. The trio also appeared in Columbus at a state meeting where they and the songs were greatly enjoyed.

Dr. McDonough welcomed the guests at the gatherings and introduced the speaker, Dr. Jack Schreiber, immediate past president, and member of the AMA Speakers' Bureau, and Chairman of Operation Hometown. After a most informative talk on the provisions of the Eldercare Bill, questions and discussions followed.

Kathy Petraglia's activities as social chairman were outstanding. I sometimes wonder if anyone who has not held a similar position, can understand the detailed and endless preparations that are necessary. To Kathy, we extend our sincere thanks, and also to Carolyn Dietz, who was a great help and was a charming hostess. She even obtained the services of Dr. George who shared a good deal of the work—and the worry!

We want to thank most sincerely the hard working telephone committee, all board members, who made so many telephone calls. This fine group included Dorothy Vuksta, Coletta Scheetz, Becky Friedrich, Elly Dentscheff, Margot Wegner, Carolyn Dietz, Marilyn Kachmer, Carolyn Wiltsie, Ginnie Martin, Dorothy Sherr, Kathy Petraglia, Velma Holden, Jo Gambrel, Ginny Shorten, Pearl Gelbman, and Ann Might.

"Thank you" must also be extended to Mr. Howard Rempes, Executive Secretary for his ever present help and encouragement. We are very grateful to Dr. Murray for permitting us the use of his beautiful building.

I know that it is agreed that this was one of the finest demonstrations of cooperation brought about by sincerity of purpose. Although it involved tremendous effort and a bit of anxiety too, we were happy to have helped in Operation Hometown. We feel that we have done our part in helping the Medical Society in presenting information to so many physicians and their wives. By the time this article is being read you will know the results of the vote in Congress. Did you do your share in helping by letting our Congressmen know how you felt about the Eldercare and Medicare Bills?

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be March 17 at the Mural Room. President-elect Carolyn Turner and Kathleen Stotler are co-chairmen. We will enjoy a fashion show with our girls doing the modeling. The social hour will start at 11:30 a.m. and at 12 noon there will be a brief meeting at which time the nominating committee will present a slate of officers for the ensuing year. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. and you may of course, bring guests. If you have not already done so, please call in your reservation to Carolyn or Kathleen.

See you next month.

—Charlotte Tandatnick,
President of the Woman's Auxiliary

WANTED — BULLETIN ADVERTISERS

The staff of the Bulletin is convinced that there are many businesses and services in Mahoning County that would profit from advertising in the Bulletin. The problem is to find them. The staff appeals to the entire membership of the Medical Society to pass along information or tips concerning those firms that might actually become Bulletin advertisers. Such information may be given to the editor, Kurt Wegner, and to the staff members listed on the masthead, or to the medical society office.

SOCIETY OFFICE SWAMPED

The medical society office has been swamped by requests for Eldercare pamphlets. The executive secretary asks that all doctors be patient. Orders are being filled as fast as possible.

At the date that this Bulletin went to press, orders for pamphlets by the medical society office had reached a total of 122,000, with no end in sight.

In addition to the doctors' requests for pamphlets, there has been a great demand from lay groups. Twenty-four thousand pamphlets have been placed in drug stores. Clubs and individuals are requesting pamphlets by the 500s and thousands.

The medical society office will meet the demand. Doctors are urged to get their orders in to the office immediately so that they will have enough material for their patients.

epilepsy can undermine self-reliance

"A therapeutic 'bull's-eye' may be scored with DILANTIN [diphenylhydantoin] even for a person with long-standing convulsions previously unrelieved by phenobarbital."^{*} Such efficacy can make a substantial contribution to your epileptic patient's rehabilitation...improve his prospects for employment...foster greater self-reliance.

Indications: Grand mal epilepsy and certain other convulsive states. Precautions: Toxic effects are infrequent: allergic phenomena such as polyarthropathy, fever, skin eruptions, and acute generalized morbilliform eruptions with or without fever. Rarely, dermatitis goes on to exfoliation with hepatitis, and further dosage is contraindicated. Eruptions then usually subside. Though mild and rarely an indication for stopping dosage, gingival hypertrophy, hirsutism, and excessive motor activity are occasionally encountered, especially in children, adolescents, and young adults. During initial treatment, minor side effects may include gastric distress, nausea, weight loss, transient nervousness, sleeplessness, and a feeling of unsteadiness. All usually subside with continued use. Megaloblastic anemia, aplastic anemia, leukopenia, granulocytopenia and pancytopenia have been reported. Nystagmus may develop. Nystagmus in combination with diplopia and ataxia indicates dosage should be reduced. Adequate examination of the blood is advisable. DILANTIN (diphenylhydantoin sodium) is supplied in several forms including Kapseals[®] containing 0.1 Gm. and 0.03 Gm.
